Operator FAQ

Common questions from tour operators, clubs and fleets.

Version: CoRoute 3.56 · November 2026

Getting started

Who can apply? Tour operators, riding clubs, rental fleets and corporate fleets. You apply at /operators/apply with your CoRoute account. The CoRoute team reviews each application.

How long does approval take? The application page says "We review applications within a few working days and reply to your business e-mail." [OWNER TO FILL: target time, if you want to commit to one.]

What does it cost? [OWNER TO FILL.] Your limits and features are set by CoRoute when you are approved. Riders do not pay to join your rides.

My application was rejected. Can I apply again? Yes. The reason is shown on /operators/apply and at /operator. Fix the issue and send it again.

Do I need a separate login? No. You and your co-organisers sign in at /operator with your normal CoRoute accounts.

Riders and roster

Do riders need to be my friends in CoRoute? No. Invite them by username. They still have to accept the invite.

Where do riders see my invite? In the app under People > Requests (it appears as a crew invite), and on the website at /clubs.

Can I add riders without their consent? No. Every rider accepts the invite themselves, or joins with your link.

Why does my roster say "full" when I have fewer members than the limit? Waiting invites count toward the limit. Cancel old invites under Waiting for an answer. Invites expire after 14 days anyway.

Can riders leave? Yes, at any time, from /clubs or by leaving the crew in the app. Only the owner cannot leave their own club.

Do my riders need a CoRoute plan? No. Operator rides take their seats from your operator limits. Joining a ride is free.

Rides

What happens when I press Start? A normal CoRoute group ride starts, with your lead rider as trip owner. It appears on the lead's phone. Then press Invite roster so riders get the ride invite. Public sign-ups who were approved see the join code on the ride page.

Can I run more than one ride at the same time? Yes, up to your "Live rides at once" limit. With the multi-group feature, all of them appear on one map.

My group is bigger than my riders-per-ride limit. Split it into two rides (for example A and B groups), each with its own lead and sweeper. You can also ask CoRoute about your limit.

Do cancelled rides count against my monthly limit? No.

Who controls the route and the group speed limit? The lead, in the app (Group settings). The console sets the lead and sweeper and can change riding roles during the ride.

Can I edit a ride after it starts? No. Only a scheduled ride can be edited. During a live ride you can change roles, invite the roster or end the ride.

Safety and SOS

What do I see when a rider raises an SOS? A red banner on the console and an SOS badge in the navigation. If your plan includes "Roster & emergency contacts during an SOS", you can open the rider's emergency contact, their phone, their medical info and their last position, while the SOS is open.

Does CoRoute call the ambulance or police? No. Call 112 in any life-threatening emergency. CoRoute alerts the group, the lead and sweeper, the rider's emergency contact (by text, with a live link) and, where the rider needs help, nearby CoRoute riders. The SOS screen in the app has one-tap 112 and the nearest hospital.

What if the rider has no signal? The SOS is kept on the phone and sent when there is a connection. Nearby CoRoute phones can relay it, and the phone can text the emergency contact through its messages app.

Can crash detection miss a crash or raise a false alarm? Yes. It depends on the phone, its mount and its sensors. The rider has 30 seconds to tap "I'm OK" on a false alarm. CoRoute learns from false alarms on each bike, but that learning never raises the threshold for severe impacts. Brief riders to keep the phone in a handlebar mount.

Why is a rider shown faded on the map? Their phone has not sent a position for 5 minutes. On mountain roads this is often only coverage, but check with the sweeper.

Does a suspension or expiry stop a live ride? No. Live rides keep running with all safety features. Only console actions stop.

Privacy

Can I see riders' phone numbers or e-mail? No. The one exception is the emergency contact view during that rider's open SOS, and each view is recorded.

Can I see where riders live, or their past routes? No. You see positions only during your own live rides. Reports and CSV files have no coordinates.

What is in the CSV export? For each rider and ride: ride, ride date, status, username, first name, role, joined, left, finished, distance and incidents. Nothing else.

Who can see my business phone and e-mail? Only you and CoRoute administrators.

Broadcasts and partners

Why was my broadcast refused? Broadcasts cannot contain prices, offers, coupons or buying words (Google Play rules for notifications), phone numbers or e-mail addresses. You can send up to 5 a day.

Can I promote a sponsor or partner deal to my roster? Not through broadcasts. Partner perks are curated and sent by CoRoute, only to riders who turned Partner perks on. See Partner Program.

Account

Can I transfer my operator account to someone else? Not in the console. Contact CoRoute.

Can I have staff with view-only access? Not yet. Co-organisers have full ride access. A viewer role is Planned.

Can I assign my rental bikes to riders, or invoice from the console? Not yet. Fleet garage, per-bike billing and GST invoices are Planned.

What happens if I delete my CoRoute account? Your operator account, its rides, broadcasts and club roster are removed. Your riders remain CoRoute users.
